S. of Mace & Meeker, No. 75 Carmine st.—The subscriber (baving returned to the city after his absence, following the suspension of business of the old of and well hower firm of Mace & Meeker, undertakers,) takes this method of informing his friends and the patrons of the old firm that he has opened a wareroom at No. 280 6th-sv., near lifeh-st., where he is prepared to attend all calls pertaining to the undertaking business.

He respectfully selicits to be remembered by such of his friends and cld customers as may require the services of an undertaker, and feels confident that, from his long experience at the chief manager of the oldest and most popular establishment of the kind in the city, he can give the most entire satisfaction in all the requirements of the business.

He is also sgent for the sale of the colebrated "Fisk's Metalile Burial Cases," which are fast superseding the use of the better class of wooden coffins. These cases are air tight and indestructible, and very superior for the purposes of ordinary interment, transportation, or depositing in vaults. His arrangements are such that he is enabled to tunish them at the same prices as charged at the principal warerooms in Broadway, which brings them within the means of all who can siford a mahogany coffin. He also keeps on hand a full supply of caps, shrouds, scarfs, gloves, he, he. Ac ac.

He gives his personal attention to calls by day or night.

To those who prefer a wooden coffin, he is prepared to furnish them, as heretofore, on the root moderate terms.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

To the Editor of The N. Y. Tribuna: Sin—A large portion of the money article in The Herald of the 14th inst., is appropriated to the defense of the course of the American Exchange Bank in its attempt to force upon this community a depre-ciated currency from distant States. The article would not be worth noticing, but for the authoritative manner in which it speaks for the President of that Eank, which may perhaps lead some persons to believe

Eank, which may perhaps lead some persons to believe the false statements and impressions which the writer no doubt, sent forth for the purpose of deceiving the public. They are briefly, as follows:

1st. The Metropolitan Bank never promised or contemplated making "New York for the whole Union, what Boston is for New-England, by bringing all the States under their control." The Banks now receive the bills of the Banks of this State. New England and New-Jersey; and it never proposed or promised to do more. It varied from its course in taking the bills of Government Stock Bank, Michigan, because that Bank was owned in Wall-st, and had thrown into our circuletion about $353,000, to the great annovance and lose was owned in Wall-st., and had thrown into our circulation about $330,000, to the great annoyance and loss of the dealers of the Bank. The Bank was not actuated by "mathee" in taking these bills; but by a desire to protect the community from a distant depreciated currency, and they received the bills at 'a, not 'a per cent discount to accomptish the object.

2d. The Metropolitan Bank has not "by sheer falsehood tried to make the ignorant believe that the free bank currency of foreign States is all shimplaster and wild cat." It has exerted its influence against a foreign depreciated currency. Many of the banks in the Westers States, are no doubt sound, and their bills are well secured; but that many of them, (and some, the bills of which the American Exchange Bank commenced taking,) are unacound the community well know.

cured; but that many of them, (and some, the bills of which the American Exchange Bank commenced taking,) are unasound, the community well know.

3d. The Metropolitan Bank has never sent the bills of the regular legitimate Banks of the State, home to the Banks or their agencies for specie. It has sent the bills of the Banks of mere circulation, to their agencies for payment in specie, not choosing to give up their bills which were secured by stocks, and take checks on the owners of the Banks in Wall-st.

4th. The charge of "bribery and false promises" is unworthy of nonce. No one can suppose The Herald has been bribed.

But the contest is not between the two Banks—it is between the community and the American Exchange Bank. The former want a sound par currency, and sooner or later they will have it. The American Exchange Bank is trying to introduce a distant depreciated currency, because it can make money by doing the business of these distant Banks and shaving their bills in circulation. The managers of the American Exchange Bank are made a very great mistake. No Bank or other institution can succeed in any measure calculated to injure the community. They will rise in their strength, as in the present case, to defeat the measure, and protect themselves.

The Editor of The St. Louis Democrate cords having seen a five dollar bill of the State Bank of outh Carolina, with the following pithy indorsement on its back:

There has the last five dother William of an astate of $50,000 left me three years agoly my father, and unless I make a raise with the to-might at a same of de pole, I am a poser.

The Shoemakers' Strike at Newark. NEWARE, Friday, March 4, 1853.

Ti the Kather of The N. Y. Tribune:

Six: Some two weeks ago you were kind enough to insert an article in your valuable paper for the Journeymen Shoemakers of the City of Newark, where in we gave a clear, unvaruished statement of some of the grievances under which we labor, and the means by which we resolved to redress them. Some of the which they have endeavored to turn the tables upon us, by representing themselves as the injured party culinstances we feel ourselves called upon to reiterate that our first statements were true in every particular, and to point out wherein they have had recourse to falsebood and misrepresentation on purpose to induced

Interes of surrounding districts; still they have the audacity to sillin in see have attempted to deprice them of part of their basiness."

They go on to state that "they at once agreed to pay the aivance asked." But such is not by any means the case, as several of them not only refused to pay the wages, but one of them went so far as to tear the list of prices in the face of the person presenting it, and, with other insults, showed him the door.

To analyze every statement and expose every false-hood would require too great a space; suffice it to say that the journeymen shownakers have been for the past two years the most oppressed and worst paid class of mechanics in this or any other city. And men who would have recourse to trickery and falsehood for the purpose of suppressing the attempts of men to anotherste their condition; whose average wages do not amount to five dollars a week, when the prosperity of the times would warrant a better state of things; must

To use their own words, with this statement, which we deep them to contradict, we leave the public to judge between us, as to make charges are false, whose object despetic, and whose course tyranstock.

So far as we are able to judge their course has been the very pith of despotism, which is to crush naily; well knowing that while we are divided they cas grind and oppress us at their pleasure. It is true they are despets on a small scale, being limited to the sphere of their influence. And heppy for us this sphere is not more attended. We shall still persevere, believing in the ultimate triumph of trath and right.

We gave, a few days since, a paragraph in relation to an assault by the Clerk of the Ohio He of Representatives upon one of the members of that body. The Cincinnati Gazette gives the particulars of the affair and the action consequent upon it, as follows

the affair and the action consequent upon it, as follows:

The House has vindicated its dignly by the expulsion of its Clerk, Malion II Medary, who, during its assession, committed an entrageous assessit upon one of its members, for words spoken in debate. The assessit was committed under the following circumstances, as testified to by W. A. Hutchins, of Scioto:

In the progress of the morning business, when bills for a third residing were called for, the Clerk proceeded to read the bill regulating the Probate Court, upon the conclusion of which, Mr. Barmon arose and remarked, that he had not been in the babt much of indung fault, but that some two or three days ago the bill introduced by himself, relating the high introduced by investigating the probate to be engrossed, and should have been ready to be put upon its final passage before the bill that had just been read, but that owing to some horse power operation of the Clerk, that this was owing either to the dishonesty or gross incompetency of the Clerk, which, he did not know and did not care. He could take which horn of the dilemma he pleased. And concluded by moving that the bill be laid on the table. I do not profess to give the exact language, but the substance of what Mr. B. said. The opith-ta-spilet to Mr. M. J. think, are very nearly in the exact language used. Mr. B. did not appear to be very much excited, and from his manner and language I judged he was disposed, for some cause, to offer the Clerk's desk, that functionary first attempted to strike him with a chair, and not succeeding, seized a strike him with a chair, and not succeeding, seized a

About ten minutes afterward Mr. Barnum being near the Clerk's desk, that functionary first attempted to strike him with a chair, and not succeeding, seized a crutch, belonging to one of the members, and struck him a violent blow upon the head, breaking the crutch, and inflicting a severe wound apon Mr. Barnum. In palliation of the conduct of Mr. Medary, it must be said, that Mr. Barnum's language was calculated to pro-voke a breach of the peace, and under the circumstance, peculiarly unjust to the clerk. Mr. Medary appears to have done everything within his power to expedite the voke a breach of the peace, and under the circumstances, pecularly unjust to the clerk. Mr. Medary appears to have done everything within his power to expedite the engressment of Mr. Barnum's bill, and to procure it an early reading. That he did not succeed was not his fault, and should not have been made the occasion of on attack, and, perhaps, would not have been, if Mr. Marnum had not considered himself aggrieved at the conduct of the clerk in another matter.

But palliared as Mr. Medary's conduct is by these circumstances, it was yet wholly unjustifiable, and such as the House could not too promptly or too severely punish. It is without any possible justification, and Mr. Medary himself, in a letter to the Committee, from which we make the following extracts, admits it to be so;—

"Thave adverted to these facts in explanation, not as a justification of what has occurred. Justification, I am aware there can be none. I ought not, under any circumstance, thus to have violated the sanctity of the place, and the peace and dignity of the House.
"No one can immost the occurrence more deeply than myself. Nothing can increase the regrets I feel. The pain mad opprofrum of an oftence, with a right-minded man, here more in its commission than in its punishment.
"Whetever may be the action of the House, I feel that I owe it in advance this apology, and indeed all the atonement which it is in my power to make."

We are glad the House has taken the only step it

We are glad the House has taken the only step it could to maintain its self respect, and to punish the grossest and most indefensible outrage which has ever been committed within the legislative walls of our state.

current year, the following is the naval force of the United States:

Eleven abjus of the line, carrying eight hundred and sixty guns. Of these, three are in commission as receiving ships, three in ordinary, four on the stocks, and one preparing for sea. The independence, a razes carrying hity four guns, is also preparing for sea.

Twelve frigates of the first and one of the second class, carrying five hundred and sixty four guns. Of these, five are in commission, four in ordinary, two on the stocks, and two preparing for sea.

Twenty one sloops of war, carrying four hundred and two guns. Of these, fifteen are in commission, one in ordinary, and one preparing for sea.

Four brigs, carrying forty guns. Of these, three are in commission, one in ordinary, and one preparing for sea. Also, four schooners, carrying seven guns, two of which are in commission, four steamers of the first class, carrying eighteen guns, two of which are in commission, one repairing, and one preparing for sea; and seven steamers less than first class, carrying five guns, three of which are in commission, two preparing for sea, and two employed as tenders.

Five store ships, carrying twenty-four guns; three of them are in commission, and one preparing for sea.

This gives a total of seventy five roasels of all kinds, carrying two thousand and fourteen guns.
